The Hon. William H. Webster
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Webster:

On behalf of Arnaud de Borchgrave, Editor-in-Chief of The Washington Times, I would like to invite you to join us at the paper as our guest at an Editorial Board luncheon.

These luncheons provide our guests with an opportunity to articulate their viewpoints on issues of current interest. They also help our editors and reporters stay abreast of breaking developments that shape the day's major news stories.

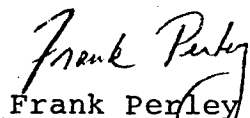

Mr. de Borchgrave will host the luncheon and a handful of editors and reporters will also be invited to attend. We normally assume your remarks to be on the record, but will honor your request to place certain remarks on background.

At the lunch, you are invited to make a brief opening statement if you wish, and then the rest of the session will be devoted to question and answer. You are welcome to bring staff as well. The lunches generally convene at 12:30 p.m. and adjourn promptly at 2:00 p.m.

Please have your appointments secretary call me with convenient dates when you could join us as our guest of honor. Realizing how busy you are, we are quite willing to reserve a date several months in advance.

I am certain you will find the session as stimulating as we will.

Sincerely,

Frank Perley
Executive Assistant to the Editor-in-Chief
